WELCOME to the

EHS Class of 1974 - 50th Class Reunion

On behalf of the 50th Reunion Planning Committee members, we welcome you. The Committee has taken a significant effort to create an amazing event that will hopefully leave you with lifelong memories.

We hope the reunion provides you the opportunity to reconnect with former classmates from grade school, Longfellow, Emerson, or Waller Junior High Schools, along with those from your years at Enid High School.

Thank you for attending.

Enid High School Alma Mater Song

Hail, Enid High School Noble and Strong
To thee with loyal hearts we raise our song!
Swelling to heaven,
Lour our praise ring.
Hail, Enid High School
Of the we sing.

Plainsmen's Creed

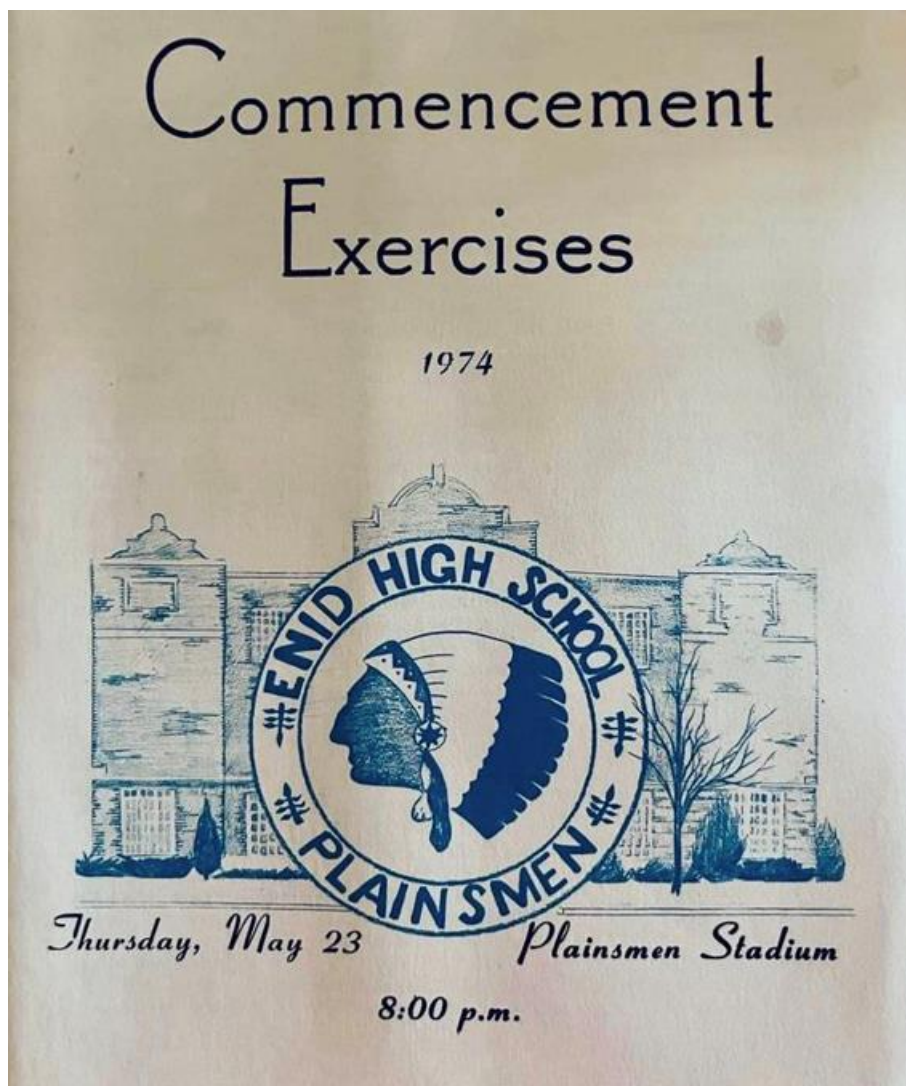

I believe in Enid High School, her traditions and ideals;
I believe in honesty in every-day tasks and in faithfulness and duty;
I believe in the joy that comes from worthwhile fun,
generous comradeship and loyal service to my school;
I believe in modesty in victory and an unconquering spirit in defeat;
I believe in keeping faith with my neighbor, my father and mother, my country and God.

Enid High Fight Song

Oh, here's to Enid High School,
Great is her fame, Her team is fighting
To uphold her name.
(We'll all be true and loyal.)
See her colors flying, high above the rest.
Blue and white will prove Ol' EHS is best
GO BIG BLUE

We Did It! 50 Years Ago!

Where Did We Go?

30 Year Reunion, June 12, 2004

40 Year Reunion - 2014

Class of 1974, Here We Are Today

Many have passed away, and those who are still here are called “elderly.”

- We were born in the 50s and 60s
- We grew up in the 50's-60's-70's.
- We studied in the 60's-70's-80's.
- We were together in the 70's-80's-90's.
- We got married or not and discovered the world in the 70's-80's and 90's
- Adventuring into the 80's-90's
- We're settling into the 2000's.
- We became wiser in the 2010's.
- And we are going strong into 2024 and beyond.
- Turns out we went through EIGHT different decades, two different centuries and two different millennials.
- We have gone from phones with an operator for long-distance calls, pay booths, to video calls worldwide.
- We have gone from slides to YouTube, vinyl to online music, handwritten letters to emails and WhatsApp, live sports games on the radio, black and white TV, Color TV to HD 3D TV.
- We went from the video store and now we are watching Netflix.
- We have known the first computers, punch cards, disks and now we have gigabytes and megabytes on our smartphones.
- We wore shorts all through childhood, then trousers, pant suits or miniskirts, oxfords, Clarks, jumpsuits and blue jeans.
- We avoided childhood paralysis, meningitis, polio, tuberculosis, swine flu and COVID-19.
- We have done roller skating, roller blading, tricycle, bicycle, moped, gas or diesel and now we drive hybrids or electric.
- We played with horses, checkers, marbles, monopoly and now there is candy crush on our smartphones, and we read – a lot.
- Our classmate's religion was not a subject.
- We used to drink tap water and lemonade in glass bottles, and the vegetables on our plate were always fresh. Today we have our meals delivered.
- Yes, we have been through a lot.
- They might describe us ex-annuals----people who were born in the 50's world who had an analog childhood and a digital adulthood.
- We should also add the Biological Revolution that we have witnessed. In 1960 biology was very descriptive. We have witnessed Molecular Biology: The molecules of life have been discovered: DNA, RNA etc. When you see everything that has come from it: gene therapy, gene fingerprints, and others, the progress is considerable.
- We have kind of “seen it all”!
- Our generation has literally lived and witnessed more than any other in every dimension of life.
- This is our generation that has literally adapted to “CHANGE”.
- A big congratulations to all the members of a very special generation, which will be UNIQUE.

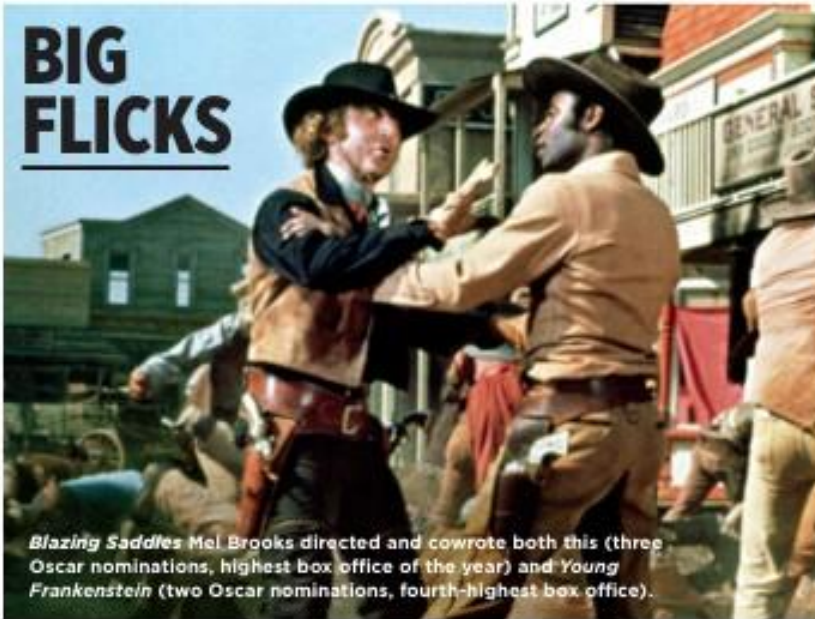

1974

A YEAR TO REMEMBER

From Chinatown and Nixon's resignation to Hank Aaron and Happy Days, many world changers made their mark 50 years ago. Here are 50 of them

By Joel Stein

BIG FLICKS

Blazing Saddles Mel Brooks directed and cowrote both this (three Oscar nominations, highest box office of the year) and Young Frankenstein (two Oscar nominations, fourth-highest box office).

Texas Chain Saw Massacre This low-budget horror movie, which grossed more than $30 million, introduced audiences to the obvious idea that power tools are dangerous. Night Court tie-in: The narration is voiced by a very young John Larroquette.

The Lords of Flatbush This 1950s-set film helped launch costars Sly Stallone and Henry Winkler, who would go on to play Fonzie—a much cooler name than the one he had in this movie: Butchey Weinstein.

Chinatown In Robert Towne's original script, Faye Dunaway's character isn't killed. But director Roman Polanski wasn't a fan of anything close to a happy ending.

Foxy Brown When Inga DeCarlo Fung Marchand was 15 and looking for her rapper name, she asked Pam Grier if she could use her character's name from this Blaxploitation film. Unlike Grier in the film, she has not found success through lethal vengeance.

ON THE PLAYLIST

"Waterloo" by ABBA This song became huge after ABBA sang it to win Eurovision, beating Olivia Newton-John, who came in fourth place. The next year's winner was "Ding-a-Dong," by Dutch group Teach-In.

Kiss' debut album Peter Criss was the only member of the group who hired a makeup artist for the photo shoot of the cover. Everyone else insisted on doing it himself.

"Can't Get Enough of Your Love, Babe" by Barry White A fan of The Simpsons, White recorded a version of this song for the 1993 episode "Whacking Day," in which he appears as a guest who helps save the snakes that are normally killed during this Springfield holiday. Just trust me: It totally makes sense in the show.

"Rebel Rebel" by David Bowie He wrote the song for an unmade musical about Ziggy Stardust; it was the last single Bowie did in his distinctive glam rock style.

John Denver He had two songs hit number 1 on the charts that year ("Sunshine on My Shoulders" and "Annie's Song"). He was also named poet laureate of Colorado and acted on an episode of the police show McCloud. It would be another five years until the Muppets saw his hair, realized he was one of them and invited him on their show.

TV DEBUTS

Little House on the Prairie In addition to bur-nishing Michael Landon's career and launching that of Melissa Gilbert, the show in 1981 fea-tured Jason Bateman, who arrived to play an orphan adopted by the Ingalls family.

Good Times In this Maude spin-off, teen-ager J.J. was played by 26-year-old comedian Jimmie Walker, who was only eight years younger than John Amos, who played his dad on the Norman Lear sitcom.

Chico and the Man Originally the show was to star Cheech and Chong. When that didn't work out, the creator found a comedian named Freddie Prinze.

Happy Days The sitcom, starring Ron Howard, ran for 11 seasons on ABC. It originally pre-miered on the anthology series Love, American Style. When creator Garry Marshall's kid got into aliens after Star Wars, Marshall wrote a visitor from outer space into the show. He cast Robin Williams, then spun that story into the hit sitcom Mark & Mindy.

Tony Orlando and Dawn When divorce ended The Sonny and Cher Comedy Hour, CBS replaced it with this show. Tony Orlando never divorced Dawn, though, since it was not a person but the name of his group.

The Rockford Files The show was co-created by Stephen J. Cannell, who also made The A-Team, 21 Jump Street and The Commish, among others.

CULTURE-SHAPING LAUNCHES

High Times
The magazine on all things marijuana was a truly blazing success.

Dungeons & Dragons Nerd alert! Players include Stephen Colbert, Vin Diesel, Patton Oswalt, Drew Barrymore, Aubrey Plaza and Elon Musk.

Great Adventure Three years after a Warner Brothers scion built this amusement park in New Jersey, it was bought by Texas' Six Flags. (The "six flags" are of the nations that once governed Texas.)

People The magazine was a spin-off of Time magazine's celebrity-focused People page, which was written in the late 1990s by ... yours truly, Joel Stein!

Tommy John surgery Following his innovative ulnar collateral ligament reconstruction, John pitched until he was the oldest player in the league, tying the record for most seasons in the game. At least one in four major league pitchers now has the surgery.

Rumble in the Jungle is most-watched sporting event Muhammad Ali debuted his rope-a-dope tactic in Zaire to beat the favored George Foreman by knockout.

Miami Dolphins win second of back-to-back Super Bowls Larry Csonka carried the ball 33 times, ensuring that we all actually learned to pronounce his name.

Lou Brock breaks season record for stolen bases He also makes the umbrella hat, the Brockabrella, a hit.

Frank Robinson becomes MLB's first Black manager In his very first at bat as Cleveland's player-manager, he hit a home run.

Evel Knievel tries to jump the Snake River Canyon in Idaho He does not succeed (though he survives). In 2016, stuntman Eddie Braun makes the jump successfully in a replica of the rocket Knievel used.

ENDINGS

Monty Python's Flying Circus As the show ended in the U.K., PBS started airing it here, in the land of lumberjacks.

Duke Ellington His son, Mercer, continued to lead the orchestra until he died in 1996. The group won a Grammy in 1988.

Mama Cass Elliot Born Ellen Naomi Cohen, the singer from the Mamas & the Papas died, at 32, in musician Harry Nilsson's apartment.

Ed Sullivan His weekly variety show, which debuted in 1948, had been canceled three years earlier as part of CBS's "rural purge."

BEGINNINGS

Jimmy Fallon As a kid, he and his sister, Gloria, would act out Saturday Night Live sketches with friends.

Amy Adams An Army brat, she was born to American parents in Vicenza, Italy. Her mom was a semiprofessional bodybuilder; her dad was a nightclub singer.

Mahershala Ali His mom and maternal grandmother were Baptist ministers; he converted to Islam. His father won $2,500 dancing on Soul Train.

Leonardo DiCaprio When he was 1, his parents separated.

They moved next door to each other in Los Angeles to raise him.

Did we miss one of your favorites from 1974? Let us know what you think at facebook.com/aarp.

PRODUCTS WE STILL LOVE

Super-market barcodes
The first item

scanned, a 10-pack of Juicy Fruit, is in the Smithsonian, but as a facsimile—a shame, as it would likely still be fresh.

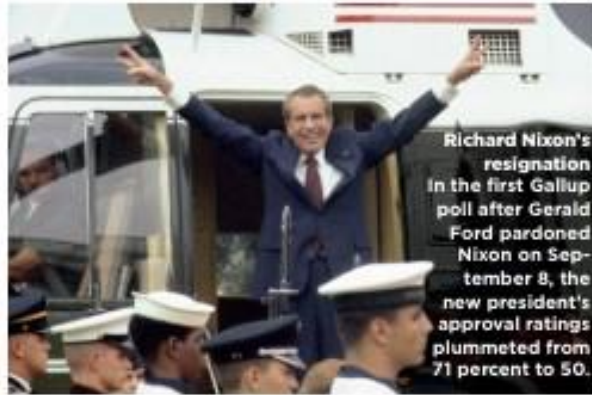

Meow Mix Its wildly popular—and somewhat annoying—ad jingle consists solely of the word “meow.” Some say the CIA plays it on repeat to wear down prisoners.

Volkswagen Golf Though it was called the Rabbit when first sold here, the phrase “multiplying like golfs” never caught on.

HISTORY WAS MADE

Richard Nixon's resignation In the first Gallup poll after Gerald Ford pardoned Nixon on September 8, the new president's approval ratings plummeted from 71 percent to 50.

Oscars streaker Cohost David Niven was introducing Elizabeth Taylor when he was rudely interrupted by Robert Opel. Niven's ad-lib about Opel's “shortcomings” got big laughs.

Skylab Three American astronauts returned after 84 days in the U.S. space station. When Skylab fell to Earth five years later, NASA was unsure where the debris would land. People bought bull's-eye T-shirts and cans of “Skylab repellent.” A hotel in North Carolina painted a target on its roof and threw a poolside disco party.

Jerry Springer

Elected to the Cincinnati City Council at 27, Springer resigned after being caught writing a check to a prostitute—a scandal tailor-made for the Jerry Springer Show.

Ted Bundy

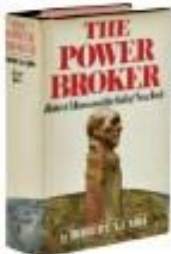

He killed at least 11 women in Washington and Utah that year. Earlier, he had been on Seattle's Crime Prevention Advisory Commission.

Patty Hearst's kidnapping

The Symbionese Liberation Army, the far-left terrorist group that abducted William Randolph Hearst's granddaughter, took its name from the word “symbiosis” to encompass its plan to unify all progressive causes.

BOOKS

The Power Broker by Robert Caro
Though the biography of Robert Moses is almost 1,300 pages, Caro had cut it by 350,000 words.

If Beale Street Could Talk by James Baldwin
Regina King won an Oscar for her role in the 2018 film version of Baldwin's fifth novel.

Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance by Robert Pirsig
Phil Jackson, William Shatner and Tim Allen all said this was the book that most affected them. The bike Pirsig maintained is now in the Smithsonian.

All the President's Men by Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward
The authors (and their Washington Post editor, Ben Bradlee) kept Deep Throat's identity hidden for 30 years. Their secret source was FBI associate director W. Mark Felt.

Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy by John le Carré
In the novel, le Carré popularized the spy term “mole” and invented others, like “honey trap,” which then continued as real terms used in the espionage community, as in “That honey trap has a mole in the strangest place.”
